COPIA PER LO SPORTIVO

The test performed is aimed to evaluate the physiological modifications in your DNA, in some specific genes and defined in the product sheet in order to provide you and your Trainer/sports structure with some information regarding your response to the exercise. This consent form will provide you with explanations about the analysis that will be performed and how we will manage, use and store the sample you have collected. Please read the following information carefully.

TEST CONDUCTION:

You will be asked for data such as age, ethnicity, weight, height, information on your medical history and on the use of supplements and medications.

At the time of collection, you will be provided with the sterile material for the self-picking of cells from the oral cavity by brushing with a special brush. The collection is painless, non-invasive, does not require any medical competence and does not involve risks to health. The brush will be placed by you in the supplied tube. As a precautionary measure, it is required to do the test without using mouthwashes or other rinses to increase the possibility of collecting material useful for the analysis.

The samples taken in this way will be unambiguously labelled and will be picked up by an OACP manager on the same day and transported to the company and/or the laboratory that will carry out the analytical protocol. The samples will be stored and anonymized by OACP S.R.L and/or OACP IE LTD and may be used for further investigation, in a totally anonymous way and in no way attributable to you and without further costs or commitments on your part.

If you do not express the desire to sell the sample you supplied to OACP S.R.L. and/or OACP IE LTD, it will be destroyed after 30 days from the issuance of the report.

After the tests have been performed in the laboratory, the data obtained will be included in a comprehensible report that will be released.

If you wish, you can authorize us to provide a copy of the report to your trainer/sports facility.

If you express your authorization, the "raw" data of the analyzes will be stored for archival purposes by OACP S.R.L and/or OACP IE LTD.

At any time you can request the destruction of data.

The report will be kept for archival purposes by OACP S.R.L and/or OACP IE LTD.

There are no health risks.

The tests performed do not allow to define known or unknown disease states to the user.

None of the tests performed will ever have the purpose of assessing the presence of known or unknown diseases to the user.
